FIRST AND LAST.

“Who wants to be first must be last of all, AND servant of all”.

While Jesus is talking about his imminent betrayal and death by the scribes and Pharisees, the disciples are concerned about who will be first in the new Kingdom that Jesus has announced. The lesson that Jesus had given to Peter was not enough for them to understand that they had it all wrong, because the Messiah was supposed to save his people through suffering and death, not through violence and oppression.

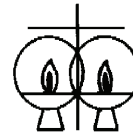

So, Jesus gives them the real understanding of what it means to be first: FIRST IN SERVICE; that is what it means for Christians to be “first”. “The Son of man has come to serve and not to be served”.

If someone wants to be first, he has to become the servant of all. As a matter of fact, the real name of the Pope, is “servus servorum Dei” that means: the servant of the servants of God. As a matter of fact, let me ask you: Who is the first in a family? Certainly, the mother. But why is she the first? Because she is the servant of all. When you love, you put yourself at the service of all you love. And it is by serving that you obtain authority and importance. Without a mother a family cannot survive; so, she is really the most important person in a home.

This works in all levels of society. At work, the most important person is not the owner or the boss, but the worker, who is producing every day what makes the company grow. Without the simple worker, the boss would not be a boss! In politics, the prime minister would not be a prime minister if it wouldn't be for the votes of the simple citizen.

And let me tell you: most of the times it is better to be second than to be first! At least the second does not get all the aggravations and complaints that the first is bound to get from everybody else!

In heaven finally, the last will be first, and for all eternity!
