Forgiveness and Reconciliation.

On this Divine Mercy Sunday, we are called to reflect on the profound message of forgiveness and reconciliation that the resurrected Jesus brings to his disciples. The resurrected Jesus seems to suddenly appear out of nowhere, even though the doors are locked. He is not the same as he was, but he is also not a ghost. He does not dwell on their abandonment and betrayal, but instead focuses on calming their fears and commissioning them to continue his mission of forgiveness and reconciliation. He calms their fears.

It is striking to note that Jesus does not simply offer forgiveness and reconciliation as an abstract concept or an individual spiritual experience. Instead, he calls his disciples to live in community and to work for right relationships within that community and beyond. The restoration of all creation must include God, all people, and even the natural world.

For us today, this mission of forgiveness and reconciliation must start within our own communities. We must strive to live in harmony with one another, to overcome division and conflict, and to work towards the common good. This is not always an easy task, as we are all flawed and prone to sin. However, we can draw inspiration and strength from the example of the early Church, which was able to live in remarkable unity despite the challenges it faced.

As Catholics, we are also called to extend this message of forgiveness and reconciliation to the wider world. We are called to be agents of healing in a broken world, to work towards justice and peace, and to bring the light of Christ to all those we encounter.

On this Divine Mercy Sunday, let us pray for the grace to live out this mission of forgiveness and reconciliation in our own lives and in the world around us. May we be instruments of God's mercy and love, bringing healing and hope to all those we meet.

A Words of Thanks Our Holy Week celebrations have ended, and we have entered fully into Easter season, a time of rejoicing and gladness for the life we have received: "Jesus has opened for us the gates of paradise that we had closed because of our sin".

We would like to thank all those who have collaborated with us in these celebrations. "Thank you" to those who took part in the Live Stations of the Cross. May so many efforts and rehearsals be rewarded by the infinite love of God.

Many of you have worked "behind the scenes", some in the cleaning, others in the decorations, others in the liturgy (readers, extraordinary ministers of communion, altar servers, choir members). Our thanks to the "Ushers" (ministry of hospitality) for always being attentive to other important details for our celebrations.

To all those who have participated in these celebrations and have also collaborated with their contributions. May "God repay you"; may the efforts made by many help us to strengthen our spirit as a family of God.
